

Learning Outside School

John MacBeath

Chair of Educational Leadership at the University of Cambridge

This session will examine evidence on what we know about learning in different contexts and what we still don't know. It will draw on work with parents on how THEY learn and with teachers on how they learn and draw parallels between teacher and parent learning children's learning using the 5W plus H framework - where, when, what, who with, and why plus the how of learning. With this as a backdrop the session will describe how these apply in different home and out of school contexts including study support and informal residential settings. The role of parents in supporting as well as learning from their children will be discussed.
